WHY REVIEW YOUR WASTE

Waste is a cost you can control.

Most businesses pay for waste collections they never review. Bins that are too big, collections that are too frequent and recycling that ends up in general waste all cost money. The law has changed too: businesses in England now have to separate their recycling, so getting it right protects you from fines as well as cutting costs.

SIMPLER RECYCLING

The law has changed. Are you compliant?

Under Simpler Recycling in England, businesses with 10 or more full time employees must now separate food waste, paper and card, and dry recyclables from general waste. Micro firms with fewer than 10 employees must follow from March 2027. We check what you need and set up the right bins and collections.

Separated from general waste.

Paper and card

Collected separately.

Dry recycling

Glass, metal and plastic.

General waste

Only what can't be recycled.
